1	R. 'Red Gurkha'	A much sought after, highly distinctive brick red flowering Roscoea. Strong stems. Compact, clump forming. RHS Award of Garden Merit (synonymus with R. purpurea f. rubra)	Late flowering mid-July to early Sept.	20-30cm		7.50
2	R. 'Harvington Evening Star'	The freshly open flowers are very deep purple/black with white flecks in the centre. Bred and named by Hugh and Liz Nunn at their nursery in Harvington near Evesham. Similar to 'Harvington Royale' but later flowering.	June to August	Up to 25cm		6.99
3	R. 'Harvington Raw Silk'	An early flowering hybrid with an RHS Award of Garden Merit. Bred by Hugh Nunn. Beautiful pink bracts surround the buds which open into large cream flowers. Clump forming with lots of vigour and lots of flowers.	Early flowering - May and June	25cm		6.99
4	R. 'Harvington Royale'	An early flowering hybrid bred by Hugh Nunn. Large purple flowers create a plant which makes an impact wherever it is seen. Clump forming and lots of vigour. Similar to 'Harvington Evening Star' but earlier into flower.	Flowers May to July	Up to 25cm		6.99
5	R. 'Harvington Imperial'	NEW 2017: Highly distinctive brick red flower suffused with purple. Strong red stems. Clump forming. Flowers from July through August. As featured in the RHS publication 'The Garden' Jan2016	Late flowering - from mid-July through August	30-40cm		14.99
6	R. cautleyoides	Cream orchid-like flowers. There is a lot of variability in what different nurseries call 'R. cautleyoides'. This is an excellent form as seen on the photograph.	Through June and early July for 6-8 weeks	30-40cm		4.99
7	R. cautleyoides 'Jeffrey Thomas'	Cream orchid-like flowers. Early flowering selection of R. cautleyoides - starts flowering 2-3 weeks before.	From May for 6 weeks	30-40cm		4.99
8	R. 'McBeath's Pink'	A very strong growing plant with distinctive reddish purple stems and pink flowers completely different from any other available. An outstanding border plant that calls attention to itself. RHS Award of Garden Merit. The Trial Report states, 'A very early and attractive cultivar. The best pink colour in the trial. Bulk up well.'	Early flowering - May and June	30-40cm		14.99
9	R. 'Harvington Summer Deep Purple'	Selected by Hugh Nunn. RHS Award of Garden Merit. The Trial report states, 'Lots of lush growth... vigorous and bulks up quickly... Produces a lot of flower over a long period. A great garden plant.'	From early July for 6 weeks	30-40cm		6.99
10	R. purpurea 'Wisley Amethyst'	Grown at Wisley and propagated in celebration of the bicentenary of the Royal Horticultural Society. Beautiful orchid like creamy white and purple flowers.	From June to August	30-40cm		7.50
